

Celebrate the launch of the AHC History Project with a special lecture honoring the late B.J. Kennedy, M.D.:

“B.J. Kennedy and the campaign for medical oncology”

by Gretchen Krueger, Ph.D., historical consultant for the American Society of Clinical Oncology.

Wednesday, February 28, 2007

4-5:30 p.m.

Mayo Memorial Auditorium

425 Delaware Street, S.E., Minneapolis

Reception to follow in the Mayo Auditorium lobby.

Parking is available in the Washington Avenue ramp located at 501 Washington Avenue S.E. Valet service is available at the Mayo Auditorium entrance at 425 Delaware Street S.E.

Sponsored by the Office of the Senior Vice President for Health Sciences; Friends of the Libraries; Wangensteen Historical Library; Program in the History of Medicine; University Libraries.

The AHC History Project, a collaborative effort between the AHC and the University Libraries, will ensure that the rich history of the Academic Health Center is preserved within the University Archives. Learn more by reading the project archivist's blog: <http://special.lib.umn.edu/uarch/ahc/>.

Questions? For further information contact:
Jenny Meslow, 612-626-7072 or meslo001@umn.edu.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
Academic Health Center

Dr. Gretchen Krueger is a senior historian in the Family and Business History Center at Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco, California. From 2003-2006, she was a postdoctoral fellow in the department of the History of Medicine, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, and a historical consultant for the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) as the organization celebrated its 40th anniversary. Gretchen received her Ph.D. from Yale University. Her dissertation, “A Cure is Near: Children, Families, and Cancer in America, 1945-1980,” examined the cooperation, skepticism, and resistance between parents and practitioners during a childhood illness. She also is published in several historical and clinical publications and her book manuscript on the history of pediatric cancers is currently under review by The Johns Hopkins University Press.